Think of it,ing a year or two after one is dead; dead to all practical intents and purposes, dead, with the autograph of death inscribed on brow and cheek and lip.

Thousands of women live for a year or two after all helplessness and happiness have gone out of their lives. When a woman becomes hopelessly helpless and unhappy she is practically dead. The young woman to whom the future is a dreary waste, the young wife who is a helpless, nervous invalid, the mother whose babes are a burden instead of a blessing—all these, unless they take the right measures to recover their health, are better dead than living. In the majority of cases these ghosts of women owe their condition to weakness and disease of the distinctly feminine organism. Frequently they have been deceived by the incorrect diagnosis of some obscure physician and do not understand the true nature of their trouble. It only costs a two-cent postage stamp for a woman to R. V. Pierce, an eminent and successful specialist, for thirty years chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute of Buffalo, N. Y. He will answer letters from ailing women without charge. He is the discoverer of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, the greatest of all known medicines for women. It acts directly on the delicate organs concerned in maternity and makes them strong, healthy and vigorous. It banishes the indispositions of the anxious period and makes baby's coming easy and almost painless. It cures all disorders and displacements of the external organs. "Previous to my use of your 'Favorite Prescription' I was very sick," writes a lady. "I had a bag of Clear Water, which I used, but it did not help. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription made her well and strong."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure biliousness and constipation. One a dose. They never fail.

MEXICAN ASSASSINS.

THE MURDEROUS REVOLT IN THE TAOS VALLEY.

Out of the Seventeen Americans Who Were Trapped by the Mexicans Only One Escaped Death Either by Fire or Bullet.

John Albert, who ended his days at Waldenburg, Colo., had exciting adventures in every section west of the Mississippi. He saw two wars and took an active share in the Indian uprisings, yet when on his deathbed he was asked to dictate to a reporter the scene he considered most exciting in his life he chose a theme with which few if any of his countrymen are acquainted.

The revolt in the Taos valley, if ever it came to the ears of the authorities, was never universally disseminated. It appears on no page of common history, and, although for horror it compares favorably with the massacre at the Alamo, no novelist has seen fit to make it a central theme.

The section now known as New Mexico was formally taken possession of by the Americans in the spring of 1846. General Kearny was at that time in command of the invading forces. He made his headquarters at Santa Fe and remained in active superintendence for more than a year. At the expiration of that period the growing need of troops on the Pacific coast led to his withdrawal to Lower California. He left two regiments with a military governor in charge, Charles Bent, with a handful of men, was left to guard Santa Fe. The Mexican governor, General Armijo, had fled on the advance of the hated Yankees. His people, no matter what their secret thoughts might be, had been the most peaceable of subjects, yet the body of the army had not been gone two months before the Americans saw that trouble was imminent.

The only man who escaped has told the story more graphically than any pen can portray it. Arroyo Honda was a town of some 1,200 inhabitants, mostly Mexicans and Pueblo Indians. It lay in the Santa Fe district, but too far away for aid to come. The total of Americans in the place was 17, most of whom were rough trappers and mountaineers. The entire town turned out to an impromptu mass meeting on the plaza. It was decided to revolt and return to the Mexican authority. Well knowing that the band of Yankees, although comparatively insignificant in numbers, would resist such a step to the last, it was determined to shoot all on sight. For this purpose the mob spread through the town. But through some source or other Governor Bent had received a tip. He sent off to Santa Fe for help and then, gathering his little band about him, fled to the only refuge the place afforded.

"The next morning," said John Albert, "they commenced the attack by sending in to us a flag of truce, demanding our arms and ammunition and an unconditional surrender of ourselves. I told the boys they could do as they pleased, but I knew treachery would lead us to certain death in the end, and I was going to die with my gun in my hands and not be murdered like a common dog."

"This was the turning point in the matter, and they all concluded to fight it out as best they could. The men who came to make a treaty with us went back. Their forces were secreted behind the brow of a hill near by us, and one of them, after a manner of the wild Indians in opening a battle, came to the top of the ridge and danced a jig and sang a song of defiance. I knew the time had come, and the sooner the bloody work commenced the sooner we would know our fate."

"We of the mountaineers had collected in a building of considerable size and the only one in the place that was two stories in height. The dancing Indian was within gunshot, and I killed him. Billy Austin stood close behind me, and when another man came to drag the body back Austin shot him. By this time my gun was loaded, and I killed a third man. Then the burrah commenced, and the air was filled with bullets from the guns in the hands of the men who lay behind the top of the hill. The bullets rattled against the house like hail. There was not a window left in it. Although we saw we were in a trap, we fought on.

"When the sun was setting, the Mexicans made a furious charge and set fire to the house we were in and got under the walls of other buildings. Soon everything was ablaze. The uproar of the yelling fiends on the outside and the excitement of the men on the inner side was deafening. We tried to escape by digging through the floor down into the granary. The house was filling with Mexicans, and everything was in confusion. Fortunately for me in the confusion I escaped from the house. I don't know how many shots were fired at me, but none took effect. I had a bullet in my clothes, one cut off the brim of my hat, and another cut the band, and I lost it from my head. In the excitement I forgot my coat and was out in the world alone without coat, hat or friends and with 140 miles of mountain road between me and safety."

Albert wandered for three days over the mountains without food and exposed to the bitter cold. He reached the American lines at last, the first to bring news of the uprising. Of course, when a regiment arrived on the scene the Taos valley quickly quieted. It was not long after that that the Mexican war broke out. One-half of that nation was transferred to Uncle Sam, in consideration of which old scores were wiped out. No penalties were exacted for the Arroyo Honda massacre, yet it must go down as one of the most horrible in our western annals.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

THE MALAYS.

It is represented that the United States may be deluged by the Malay people, and more particularly the Pacific coast, should America continue its sovereign power over the Philippines. The representation is intended as an appeal to the known opposition there is to Mongolian immigration. The Malay and Mongolian are not of the same race. One is yellow and the other is brown. The Mongolian is inclined to wander, and the Malay is not so inclined. There are those who use Malay emigration to America as an argument against a retention by the United States of the Philippines who should be informed upon the history of the Malay people so far as it is known to civilized men. Were some of those who represent a probable immigration of these people properly informed upon the real conditions that have been connected with the Malays they would not appeal to the passions of the people respecting the immigration of the Malay race.

The Malays proper occupy the peninsula that extends from Asia to farther India known as Malacca, or Malay Land. Countries adjacent to Malacca, including the Philippines, have mixed people, descendants of Malays, Mongolians and other races. It is not known that any emigration has been made by the Malays. The impress of the race is nowhere found away from the country they are supposed to have occupied from the beginning of the race. They have been known to Europeans since the beginning of the sixteenth century, and their history covering two thousand years has been partly discovered.

People who have Malay blood do not rove over the earth, and they do not seem to have a disposition to wander. They have been contented in the country they first occupied, and have continued undisturbed to occupy it. It is not probable that the Filipinos in the future get upon them a swarming fit and turn out in numbers that will cover the United States, or that will in any way affect labor in this country. There are approximately six hundred thousand of the original Malay race in Malacca proper, and in the Philippines there are about nine million of mixed people, all of whom, like the original Malay stock, have remained in the countries inhabited by them. Peoples who inhabit lands upon or near the equator are not roving peoples. The climate and all their environments are in opposition to extended or severe action of body, and, respecting mental activity, there is sufficient to acquire the means for an existence after the manner of life in the torrid zone.

Did a cause for fear exist in a probable deluge of Filipinos, the laws of the United States operating here and in the Philippines would be most effectual in preventing any catastrophe of the nature predicted by those who have the argument to offer. There should be arguments presented by those who oppose a retention of the Philippines with more force than appeals to the feelings and prejudice of others. The reasons presented should be addressed to the intellect and judgment of those who are addressed.

NEVADA'S OPPORTUNITY.

Old mining men say they never since the early boom days has more money been available for purchasing, developing and operating Nevada mines.

The dawn of a new and brighter era has come upon our State. It is to the interest of every one directly or even remotely connected with the mining industry to help the good times along. Foreign capital is a prime necessity in this industry and in no way can foreign money be better attracted than by exhibits of minerals abroad.

The Paris Exposition is Nevada's opportunity. We have three splendid commissioners with whom to cooperate: J. A. Yerington, Carson; E. B. Maxson, Reno, and W. J. Dooley, Delamar.

The word "co-operate" was used advisedly, for without our aid the commissioners can do little or nothing to advertise the resources of our great State. We can make a good showing in this continental exposition with but little trouble and no expense. The United States Commissioners propose to maintain the Nevada exhibit without cost to the State. The splendid display in the Capitol building will be taken to Paris intact.

It is the desire of the State Commissioners that the citizens should lend all the aid in their power in submitting minerals from all sections of the State.

ELLEFORD'S big company of all-star players, with new faces and plays, will be the attraction at the Opera House Fair week, beginning with a matinee Saturday afternoon. The company includes the charming singing and dancing soubrette, MISS JESSIE NORTON.

acknowledged to be the most clever comedienne on the coast.

The company open in "A Flag of Truce." The production will be thoroughly equipped with special scenery and new costumes.

Mr. Elleford carries a repertoire of some of the strongest plays ever written, including "A Flag of Truce," (also called "Ferncliffe.")

This is not the first time that the Elleford company visits Reno. Our theatergoers look forward to next week with great expectations. Tom Bates, the genial advance agent for Mr. Elleford, is here billing the town.

The samples should not be bulky, space for exhibiting being limited. A bond for the care and return of all minerals with a valuation placed thereon will be given each exhibitor. The collective minerals of mines in operation, unless otherwise stated, will, at the close of the exposition, be donated to the government for a permanent exhibit in the Smithsonian Institute at Washington, D. C.

Strong cases with locks, and carefully guarded, will insure the safety of all valuable minerals, so there should be no hesitancy on the part of the exhibitor to help the commission in showing to the world the true value and wonderful mineral resources of Nevada.

The commission has been advised by a representative of the government of the plan for classification of the minerals, and it will be even superior to that of the Columbian exposition. It is essential the exhibit should be ready for shipment by September 30, 1899. Samples should be plainly addressed to Paris Commissioners, Carson, Nevada. All communications will be carefully and promptly answered by any one of the commissioners.

Racetrack Employees.

The following appointments for fair week have been made by the executive committee of the agricultural society: Marshal, S. Logan; track gate, Mr. Lane; entrance gate, W. Callahan and G. Winter; south corner, A. Alt; judge, clerk, R. Reese; grand stand, B. M. Coffin, W. Fogg, F. C. Updike; ticket seller at gate, S. M. Jamison; ticket seller at grand stand, J. Thompson; exit gate, J. Green; ticket messenger, Mr. Nathan; entry clerk at grounds, W. Beard; entry clerk at pavilion, Mrs. Dickey; grounds night watch, J. Stanley; pavilion employees, G. Teasland, Mr. Smith.

Professional or no professional, take me up. Will be in the J. J. Quinn building Fair week with an elegant stock of woolsens. Prices with the times.

A Splendid Time.

Colonel Maxson, J. B. McCullough and A. C. May of Reno and M. A. Murphy and George Richard of Carson have returned from San Francisco. They attended a reception tendered by Islam Temple to Colonel Daboe of the First California Volunteers. There were 625 Shriners in attendance.

Hard at Work.

The officers of the California Fig Syrup Company were busily engaged yesterday in Judge Haydon's office preparing their reports. These will be completed and presented to the stockholders today or tomorrow, when the new officers will be chosen.

Ice Cream Parlors.

The Palace Bakery rooms are not only the coziest and most dignified place of its kind in town, but we also assure, without fear of contradiction, that our goods and service are far superior to any.

Additional Particulars.

The tunnel in the Rattuska mine is in 215 feet. Colonel Root and Professor Brown are also interested in the property.

Pursuing the Murderer.

A large posse is scouring the Mono and Alpine county hills in search of the Plate who killed Will Dangberg in Carson valley. It is not thought that the murderer will evade his pursuers much longer.

A large reward is offered for his capture. The commissioners of Douglas county offer $800, and relatives of the murdered boy will pay the captors $200 more.

A JOURNAL reporter was yesterday informed by an Indian that the murderer is an opium fiend, and therefore not liable to travel very far away from civilization. He is probably in hiding somewhere in the neighborhood of one of the several wood camps near Lake Tahoe, as the mountain fastnesses afford innumerable hiding places, and the Chinese at the wood camps furnish the drug to which he is the too willing slave.

Remarkable Cure of Rheumatism.

KENNA, Jackson Co., W. Va.
About three years ago my wife had an attack of rheumatism which confined her to her bed for over a month and rendered her unable to walk a step without assistance, her limbs being swollen to double their normal size. Mr. S. Maddox insisted on my using Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I purchased a fifty-cent bottle and used it according to the directions and the next morning she walked to breakfast without assistance in any manner, and she has not had a similar attack since. A. B. PARSONS. For sale by W. Pinniger.

The Best in the World.

We believe Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best in the world. A few weeks ago we suffered with a severe cold and a troublesome cough, and having read their advertisements in our own and other papers we purchased a bottle to see if it would effect us. It cured us before the bottle was more than half used. It is the best medicine out for coughs and colds.—The Herald, Andersonville Indiana. For sale by W. Pinniger.

Fall Opening.

Miss Gibbs has set Thursday, Friday and Saturday, September 14th, 15th and 16th as display days for the first millinery opening of the season. Lovers of the beautiful should not fail to see the new designs, exquisite colorings and handsome patterns there provided for the ladies of Reno. 9-12w1

A LETTER FROM
CAPTAIN LINSCOTT

Nevada Soldiers Fall Prey to the Ailments of the Tropics.

Thomas W. Mack of this city has received a letter from Captain F. M. Linscott, First Nevada Volunteer Cavalry, stationed near Cavita.

The letter speaks for itself. It tells of the hardships our boys are enduring, how the ranks have been decimated by exposure to climate as well as bullets.

The letter is dated August 8 and in its last sentence corroborates the report that the boys were to have sailed for home early this month.

Excerpts from the letter follow:

"Received your invitation to attend the exercises of senior week, several days ago. It was impossible to come over as our would-be friend 'Aggie' has all the rolling stock of our only K. R. in his possession and we have a piece of the track.

"My command has been mounted for the past seven weeks and has been doing scout duty until we are all worn out. I have not twenty well men in the troop, although only about fifteen on sick report.

"The boys are all anxious to return home.

"Lieutenant Gignoux is going into the volunteer cavalry service in Manila. I am in from the field but shall return in the morning. It is a shame to stop with it, but I have a stack of 'red tape' a foot high in front of me to go through before I return to the troop.

"Expect to start home in a month or so."

A Thousand Tongues.

Could not express the rapture of Annie E. Springer, 1125 Howard St., Philadelphia, Pa., when she found that Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption had completely cured her of a hacking cough that for many years had made life a burden. All other remedies and doctors could give her no help, but she says of this Royal Cure—"It soon removed pain in my chest and I can now sleep soundly, something I can scarcely remember doing before. I feel like sounding its praise throughout the Universe." So will every one who tries Dr. King's New Discovery for any trouble of the Throat, Chest or Lungs. Price 50c. and $1.00. Trial bottles free at S. J. Hodgkinson's Drug Store; every bottle guaranteed.

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: "I was in the most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately, a friend advised trying 'Electric Bitters' and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they saved my life, and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cts per bottle at S. J. Hodgkinson's Drug Store.

They "Mixed Up."

Two-day, while at the track training for the relay race, Shaver and Stanley finished five miles in record breaking time. Just after passing the wire Shaver, who was half a wheel's length ahead, became unbalanced and crowded Stanley into the soft dirt, throwing him to the ground. Fortunately no damage resulted but a broken wheel. Trainer Ryan says he noticed they were going to collide, and tried to spread a blanket for them to fall on, but was too late, and Stanley hit the hard ground. Shaver, however, was more fortunate, and plowed through the dirt, and did not fall. Watch these two crackjacks on Monday next.

Some stray ANECDOTES of Bench and Bar

Yarn Number 1. DEPRIVED OF EMOLUMENT Spun by Judge Wren.

IN the early days of Pioche, when the graveyard was filled largely with the victims of assassination and when a battle royal actually occurred once in the depths of one of the principal mines between ruffians employed to hold the ground and other ruffians hired to take it away from them, and at each recurring lawsuit over the valuable properties of that district rumors of jury bribery and witness bribery were rife—there lived a man named B—— who had ranked in the western part of the state as a successful stage robber.

A short time prior to the period at which the incident occurred to which we are about to allude, a celebrated mining case had been tried at Pioche. Report had it that the successful litigant in the case had paid not less than $10,000 and as high as $15,000 to each member of the jury that sat upon the case for a verdict.

These reports had whetted the desires on a large portion of the community to get upon the jury in a great mining case soon to be tried.

As the time approached for the trial the judge summoned one hundred jurors, from whom the jury was to be selected by the court. On the morning the trial was to open the lawyers upon both sides and the jurors and the litigants were present in force. The lawyers had had a surfeit of jury-bribing by their clients, and they put their heads together, and finally stipulated to send for Judge Beatty, now chief justice of California, and try the case without a jury. After the stipulation had been entered into the district judge informed the jury that it gave him great pleasure to announce to them that by stipulation of the parties the case was to be tried without a jury, and that they were discharged for the term.

The study of the countenances of some of those jurymen upon this announcement was exceedingly interesting.

Our stage-robbing friend was one of the jurymen summoned. As he left the courtroom he remarked in tones audible to everyone near him:

"Them lawyers is a d——d pretty set, taking the bread out of a poor man's mouth."

THESE STREETS MAY BE RECHRISTENED

Petition Will Be Presented to Town Trustees at Their Next Meeting.

A petition is to be presented to the town trustees at their next meeting. The petitioners will request that certain streets in Reno be renamed or, rather, that one name be applied to continuous streets that have now two or more appellations.

The point is well taken and doubtless act on will be taken as prayed for. The only objection possible lies in the fact that some confusion might arise owing to deeds and other transfers which make mention of existing names, but this objection is a trifling one.

The petitioners, the JOURNAL suggests, should embody in their communication a request that the alleys be also named. Douglas is now the only such thoroughfare being thus distinguished. Such a request should meet the approbation of the board as there are many residences fronting on alleys which should have not only a "local habitation" but a "name."

The following are some of the changes that should be made in names of streets:

Plaza, Third street and Commercial Row should be known as Third street. Walnut should be changed to Sixth. It is petitioned that Center street north of the river be rechristened University avenue.

Stevenson street should be changed to Nevada.

The petition should also be amended to request the trustees to order street names posted on all street intersections.

RELAY RACE WILL BE RUN MONDAY

Arrangements Made with Directors of Fair—Reply from Acmes.

The arrangement made by the Reno Wheelmen to hold the race on Saturday was not agreeable to the Acmes. They wired yesterday that they could not come on that date.

A special meeting of the executive committee of the State Agricultural Society was called and an agreement was entered into whereby the society will pay the wheelmen the necessary expenses to which they will be put, less the $141 subscribed by our citizens.

This plan seems to be satisfactory to all around and the race will be pulled off as originally planned at noon of Monday next.

And Still They Come.

The Bodie stable arrived yesterday. These Mono county lightning strikers feel at home already in the nine stalls reserved for them at the fair grounds.
